

WEB SITE

Report to the L&CPU AGM

The L&C Web site goes from strength to strength, with new visitors logging on each week, not only from the UK but right across the globe.

1/1/2009 January 117,370

11/2/2009 February 85,603

Unique visitors 24846 Unique Visits

com - commercial, for-profit organizations 2864 67.85%

2uk - United Kingdom 597 14.14%

3net - network infrastructure machines and organizations 513 12.15%

4ca - Canada 40 0.95%

5ru - Russian Federation 40 0.95%

6de - Germany (Federal Republic of) 36 0.85%

7edu - 4-year, degree granting colleges/universities 31 0.73%

8ua - Ukraine 15 0.36%

9jp - Japan 10 0.24%

10lt - Lithuania (Republic of) 9 0.21%

11pl - Poland (Republic of) 8 0.19%

12fr - France 6 0.14%

13nl - Netherlands (Kingdom of the)5 0.12%

14it - Italy4 0.09%

15do - Dominican Republic30.07%

16md - Moldova (Republic of)30.07%

17au - Australia2 0.05%

18be - Belgium2 0.05%

19br - Brazil (Federative Republic of)2 0.05%

20ch - Switzerland (Confederation of)2

The forum page appears is the most popular lcpu.org/forum/index.php 20534 81.59% the front page with 5% but it's the Forum Page also that throws up the most errors.

To rectify the outage problems that we experienced in early 2008 we change our web hosting provider to 1 & 1 which I'm happy to report to date we have had 11 months without any problems. It has a cost, but I'm sure you agree with me it's worth it

As a backup we still keep Cyberquest as a provider because continuation of service in paramount.

The web site is the place where we can put all the information from the EC and from you the clubs. It's with the sterling efforts of Ian Aldcroft who looks after the forum site where some lively discussions take place, heated at times, but it all ends happily I'm pleased to say, and to Ed Roper who seems to spend most of the week getting information, resizing images and then emailing most of the clubs when the site has been updated.

So I thank both of them because without their help and let me make it clear, without their help a lot of information would not be posted. So thank to both of you.

So what do I do, well every Sunday / Monday I update the web pages, make sure the links work and that all the downloads are in the correct place. Tidy up the site, make sure all the old information is deleted or archived. This can range from a few minutes to a few hours depending if I hit any problems. It has to be done each week – otherwise we get disappointed customers

I have been doing this for about 5 years and it about time the site had some fresh blood, and it's with this in mind that John Royle CPAGB from Crewe PS has volunteered to be the web master. John said at the last executive all wanted was for people not to notice a change, well for the next weeks I'm sure that will be the case, but John feel free to make the site yours. I shall still be on hand to help, but not to interfere. Can I ask everyone to continue to support the site especially Ian Ed and now John as the new webmaster.

It's been an enjoyable experience

Thank you