ABOUT AUDIO-VISUAL.....

Digital photography means that more people than ever are taking photos, and the advent of the home computer, together with the spread of image-manipulation software, means that many people are realising that the picture they take is not just an end in itself; it can be the beginning of something more creative. We may be biased, but we believe that audio-visual is the ultimate expression of such creativity.

Audio-Visual is the art of combining sound with pictures to make a sequence, or story, which can be about any subject under the sun. As in any branch of the Arts, the concept and the imagination, expertise (and patience!) of the producer is far more important than the equipment.

The Wilmslow Guild A-V Group was formed in 1993, and has members ranging from those who "just like messing about" to those seeking the highest distinctions and awards. Meetings include presentations by "experts" on all aspects of A-V and friendly discussion of each other's work. Some members pool resources to produce sequences that neither could produce alone.

Each year we hold the Fiesta - a public show at the Guild to air our work and to publicise the art of A-V. It is primarily an entertainment - you will enjoy it whether or not you are interested in the technicalities. Those more deeply interested should attend the Great Northern A-V Weekend, around the beginning of December each year.

Visitors are welcome at all meetings - if you wish to know more about the Group, then come along, telephone Howard Gregory on 01925 753303, or visit our website www.wilmslowguildav.org.uk
