

Résumé of our 2012 Big Day presenters:

Ben Hall has gained worldwide recognition as one of Britain's foremost professional wildlife photographers. Ben has developed an intimate understanding of our natural heritage and how best to use it to communicate in his pictures an emotional response to excite the viewer's aesthetic sensitivity. All of Ben's spectacular photographs are a true representation of what he saw and earned him many prestigious international awards.

Bob Campbell is managing director for onOne software. The focus of Bob's lecture will be to demonstrate the huge range of effects in the latest technologies and how they may help you to get the most out of your images to give your photography a distinctive look. This is a very compelling lecture for the serious photographer.

John Cartlidge EFIAP/g is a very well known photographer and judge throughout the British Isles. As a professional photographer for over 30 years he has produced some very iconic images. However, it is his 'amateur' status that has endeared him throughout the national and international sphere as an entertaining speaker at all levels. Look forward to an eclectic presentation full of verve and humour.

Peter Paterson FRPS MPAGB EFIAP started out in photography over 40 years ago, mostly in monochrome and throughout the years has achieved distinctions in the RPS, PAGB and FIAP. His main interests are landscape, still life and abstract in colour and monochrome. He has exhibited in salons nationally and internationally enjoying many successes. Peter's presentation will range from past work up to the present consisting of landscapes and still life, both traditional and creative.
